Re: Compliance with RoHS Directive

We hereby certify that all the primary lithium cell sizes of the type TL, SL, TLL and TLH, and the HLC and the TLM product lines, including those with pre-soldered pins and tabs produced by Tadiran Batteries Ltd. are lead-free, starting from prior to year 2000. In addition these cells fully comply with the requirements stated in EC Directive 2002/95/EC (RoHS), revision from January 27, 2003 without the use of any exemption, and with the China, "Management of Pollution from Electronic Information Products, Ministry of Information Industry, February 28, 2006, Order No. 39" (China RoHS).

Generally, all batteries are out of the scope of the EC RoHS directive. Tadiran Batteries Ltd. has committed itself to comply fully with the requirements of the Directive on voluntary basis.

Best Regards

Dr. M. Babai
